Background

Tara is recognized for co-creating targeted programs with clients to solve organizational development challenges with systemic solutions. She is a strategic thinker with in-depth understanding of organizational learning, diversity, and cross-cultural communication, who facilitates the development of leaders and senior management teams.

Her international business leadership and direct experience in multiple Asian countries enhance her navigation of culturally sensitive and fluid environments. Following a successful career as a Chief Executive, financial services innovator (patent grantee), and international entrepreneur, Tara broadened that expertise with extensive education in leadership, organizational learning, and cultural studies.

Tara is a Board Member of the Global Association of Society for Organizational Learning (SoL) Communities (Global SoL) and the Founding President and Board Chair of SoL (Singapore), an affiliate of the Global SoL. Since 2007, she has been an approved consultant by the Council of Trustees of Founding SoL and a credentialed coach by the International Coach Federation.
